Dear Capital One,

This letter is to express my interest in your opening for an experienced, detail oriented, Front-End Web Developer. I am Tony Ko, Front End Developer with experience in design. For almost a decade, I have been fascinated with the idea of working with front-end technologies. For the last year, I have focused my efforts to fully develop this desire into a complete career. As a whole, I hope to bring a unique developer-designer perspective to my work.

Over the last year, I have built a strong portfolio of 15+ front-end projects (htko.ca), using my extensive sense of design in combination with cutting edge JS tools (such as Node.js, Express.js, etc), some of which I had no prior experience in. I am proud of this fact however, because it demonstrates my ability to quickly learn and absorb, as well as implement in working products that abide by clear principles. Hopefully, my work and thus, my passion in building user focused experiences can translate into value for your company's UX or Front-End Development operations.

In addition, I am quite active within the tech community. Most recently, I was selected to Mentor a group of 7 students at HTML500 by Lighthouse Labs, the largest learn-to-code event in Canada. I am also an active member of the freeCodeCamp Toronto group, often contributing online or in person at the weekly meetups. Lastly, I frequently attend events on modern technologies that relate to my career aim, such as React / Native, Kubernetes, Machine Learning, Growth Hackers Toronto and HackerNest Socials.

I love coding and I would like to bring that to your company! Please contact me at +1-647-300-9787 or tony@htko.ca, looking forward to speaking with you.

Sincerely,

TONY KO
